Shape the Future: Be an Industry Mentor in the NUS SoC CCSGP Mentorship Programme!

Empower the next generation of tech leaders who are passionate about social good! The Centre for Computing for Social Good and Philanthropy (CCSGP) is partnering with the Halogen Foundation to launch an exciting mentorship programme running from August 2024 to February 2025.

Making a Difference, One Mentee at a Time

As a Corporate Mentor, you'll be paired with a bright and motivated NUS School of Computing (SoC) student. Your role will be to help guide them as they navigate the crucial transition from university to the workforce. This programme focuses on developing essential soft skills that will empower them to thrive in their careers.

Flexible Commitment, Lasting Impact

As working adults, we understand your busy schedule. The estimated time commitment is a minimum of 1 hour per month with the meeting format being flexible to suit both your preferences and your mentee's needs.
